

April 2023

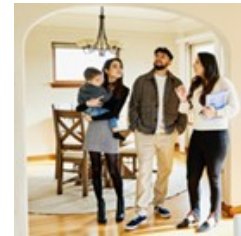

While the refrain on the daily news has become all about “banks and busts,” we’re tuning out the noise and bringing you insights into financial institution stability and the security of your savings. This month, we share perspectives on recent market activity, both domestic and international, as well as dive into mortgage rates.

ANDREWS LUCIA
WEALTH MANAGEMENT LLC

The Right Time to Buy? How to Factor in Higher Mortgage Rates

Even if the current market isn’t considered optimal for buyers, it may still be the right time for you. Read about key planning considerations when deciding if you are ready to take the path toward homeownership.

Read more >

Does Investing Internationally Still Make Sense?

Although geopolitical risks can be worrying, we believe there is no reason for investors to react to the latest news. In fact, investing in foreign companies remains a key diversification strategy. Find out why having international investments in your portfolio is beneficial.

Read more >

Video Feature: Buckingham Perspective: “U.S. vs. International Equity Portfolio Allocation”

Once investors choose to invest internationally, the next question is what is the right amount of international diversification? This video shares the principles for determining an optimal equity allocation split, the cyclical nature of these investments, current valuations and the long-term forecast.

Read more >

Follow us on social media

ANDREWS LUCIA
WEALTH MANAGEMENT LLC